SECTION 00 00 03
SEALS PAGE

DESIGN PROFESSIONAL SEALS

1.01 GENERAL

A. As a matter of consistency, completeness, and convenience, this bound set of Project documents includes designs prepared by Architect in addition to designs prepared by other consultants who have provide services as independent design professionals.

B. For purposes of graphic consistency, uniformity, and ease of reference, Project documents may be presented on plan sheets or in the Project Manual Architect's title block or page formats. The works of each design discipline are separately identifiable, and each design professional exclusively retains professional responsibility for the designs prepared by that design professional.

1.02 CERTIFICATIONS

A. Each of the design firms listed below certify that they have prepared or directly supervised the preparation of their respective Drawings and Specifications, and that each is currently and legally licensed as an Architect or Engineer.

B. Each of the design firms below is responsible only for the content of the Drawings and Specifications which were prepared by each design firm, as briefly described below each seal, and does not accept responsibility for the content of any Drawings or Specifications which were not prepared by each design firm.
